DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-8 and 20, drawn to a method and apparatus measuring the distance between first and second proximately disposed electrically conductive surfaces, classified in class 73, subclass 105.
- II. Claims 9-19, drawn to a method and apparatus determining the degree to which the shape of a first electrically conductive surface varies from a nominal shape, classified in class 73, subclass 865.8.

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because combination does not require determining a separation distance between the first and second surfaces as a function of the exerted force value. The subcombination has separate utility such as a method and device for measuring surface roughness.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
